"EDUCATION IS THE MOST POWERFUL WEAPON
WHICH YOU CAN USE
TO CHANGE THE WORLD."

Nelson Mandela, 1993 Nobel Peace Prize winner and former President of South Africa

As the latest set of COVID restrictions look to relax on Monday 17th it has been interesting to consider all of the changes that have taken place in school over the past 14 months and look at what has changed for the better and what we cannot wait to get back to normal with!

At present, we are still awaiting updated guidance from the DFE with regards to what alterations there may be to the advice in schools from Monday onwards. Until we hear differently, I ask that all parents continue to wear a face mask when on the school grounds and that we consider social distancing when waiting on the playground. The one-way system in and out of school – helped by the newly laid pathway – is working well and this is something I would imagine we will consider in the future regardless.

Another change that has benefitted the children greatly has been the lengthened drop off times since September, allowing children to come into school from 8.30am onwards. It is great to see the vast majority of our children in school at this time and it allows them to engage in the Morning Work activities set by the teachers which are aimed at securing their Maths and English skills further. It is vital that ALL children are in school by 8.50am so that children can get this solid start to the school day. Arriving at 9am, means they miss an hour a week – which over the course of a school year makes a huge difference.

In school, we are now able to bring tables into groupings instead of rows – this is key to enabling children to discuss learning with each other and is also a better layout for groups with and without adult support. The introduction of wearing PE kits on a Friday has been a success and is again something that is likely to stay long term. Thank you to all parents who have ensured that their child has the correct PE House T-Shirt and Hooded top to enable this to be as successful as it has been.

With two weeks left before the half term break, we will continue to assess where the children are at and what teaching needs to take place in Term 6 to get the children as near to their end of year assessment targets as possible. Term 6 will be an important six weeks of teaching and learning and I encourage all parents to continue to engage at home with their children in reading, phonics, times tables and spellings as and when you can.

Year 5 Parent Meeting

Last night we had a zoom meeting with parents with children in year 5 to discuss the arrangements for this year's Kent Test and secondary school application process. I will be emailing out the PowerPoint from the presentation to all parents.

Year 6 Residential Meeting

Parents with children in Year 6 should now have received an invite to a Zoom meeting at 6pm on Wednesday 26th May to discuss the end of year residential.

Rule Break PTA Day

On Wednesday 26th May we will be having a rule break day to raise funds for the school PTA. We will be sending home the form for this on 21st May which details all of the rules your child may choose to break on the day. Each rule break costs 50p and we ask that the children bring the form and any monies into school on the day. If you need a new form, please ask your child to get another one from their class teacher.

Term Six Dates

Historically, in all schools term 6 is jam packed with dates and events. Unfortunately, this year will be somewhat different to that again but we should be able to have more than we did last summer! I thought I would provide you with a few dates which we are hoping to have parents attend in some capacity. These are obviously subject to change, but may be worthwhile putting in your diaries for now.

Saturday 10th July – Summer Fayre

Wednesday 14th July – Sports Day. This may be split into an AM and PM arrangement for the two bubbles Key Stage 2 and EYFS/Key Stage One
