We have reached the final week of term. Back on Monday 4th January, we woke up ready for all children to be back in school – 24 hours and a broken boiler later, we were then preparing for a lockdown period to last until this week at the earliest. Now we are here, we have some light at the end of the tunnel with many vaccines now being carried out and a potential return date of Monday 8th March for us to welcome the children ALL back to their classrooms.

As the Acting Head Teacher, I am really proud of the role everyone has played in making this situation the best for the children – that includes the staff here at school, parents and carers at home and also the key role that the children have played in it too. I am confident that if we ALL can continue to work together like we have done then we will soon be able to enjoy a return to “normality” and all that comes with it.

Next week, you will have the opportunity to speak with your child’s class teacher either via Zoom or over the telephone. I hope that you see this as a chance to celebrate what has been done at home as well as discuss any ways we can make things better moving forwards. If you have not yet received an appointment time for next week, please do let me know and I will look into this for you.

We have a bit of a theme week planned for the final week of term and this will see similar activities taking place for children not only in our school but also with our Federated school at Sibertswold. The week is being titled “SMART” with each day taking on different elements – Sports, Music, Activities, Reflection and Theatre. It is our aim to make all plans for the week available to you by the end of the weekend; this, I hope, will allow you to plan ahead. Teachers will be using much of their time to hold meetings with parents and begin to plan for a hectic term 4, but there still may be Zoom sessions for some children – teachers will be in touch regarding these.

Last week, I carried out a LIVE Assembly as we handed out a couple of the Star Of The Week certificates to children in the village of Elvington. Back by popular demand, I will once again be hitting the streets of Eythorne and Elvington to surprise another of our star remote learners over this term. Join us on Zoom at 2:30pm to find out who it is!

A reminder that next Friday (12th February) school will close to ALL pupils for the half term week and we look forward to starting up another term on Monday 22nd February.
